The second installment in our global webinar series will focus on the "One Health" framework as an essential foundation on which we can build our lasting solutions for zoonotic risk reduction at the right scale – in frontline actions, public policies, business practices and consumer behaviors.

EndPandemics.Earth is a global solutions-oriented campaign that strives to reduce the risks of zoonotic outbreaks by addressing their root causes – commercial wildlife trade, wild habitat disruption and wildlife dependence of poverty-affected livelihoods.
